

Future/ Forward

Professor Ghassan Hage

Ghassan Hage is professor of anthropology and social theory at the University of Melbourne. Before this he was professor of anthropology at the University of Sydney for fifteen years. He has held many visiting professorships around the world including at Harvard, the Ecole des Hautes Etudes en Sciences Sociales in Paris, the University of Copenhagen and the American University of Beirut. He works in the areas of Multiculturalism, nationalism and racism and is the author of many well-known works in the field.